

RISK STRATEGIES' JANE DICKERSON APPOINTED NEW CHAIRPERSON OF URMIA'S AFFILIATE COMMITTEE

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 4, 2012 – Risk Strategies Company (RSC), a national insurance brokerage and risk management firm headquartered in Boston, announced today that Jane Dickerson, Senior Vice President and Higher Education Practice Leader, has been named Chairperson of the Affiliate Committee of the University Risk Management and Insurance Association (URMIA). The URMIA is an international non-profit educational association focused on advancing the discipline of risk management in higher education.

As RSC's Higher Education Practice Leader, a position she has held for nearly 10 years, Dickerson is a resource for employees who have an interest in new sales production. As a Senior Vice President and broker she assists with the day-to-day service management for the firm's extensive higher education client base.

URMIA serves colleges and universities, and its core purpose is to promote the advancement and application of effective risk management principles and practices in institutions of higher education. Dickerson has been an active member of the URMIA for 15 years, participating in the Committee for Northeast Regional URMIA Conference for the past seven years and serving as an active member of the URMIA Affiliate Committee for the past seven years. In addition, was a co-author of an URMIA White Paper on Enterprise Risk Management.

"During the past 15 years, I have had a mutually beneficial and rewarding experience with URMIA that began through my work with college and university clients," said Dickerson. "I am honored to have been named Chairperson of the Affiliate Committee and I am looking forward to my continued work with the association."
