

GENERAL FREIGHT

You're in the business of moving freight from point A to point B smoothly, efficiently, and on time. But sometimes, an unexpected event throws a wrench in your careful planning. Weather delays. Vehicle breakdowns. Accidents. Cybercrime.

Do you have the right coverage in place for your cargo?

Improper loading, careless handling, storms, and other events can damage cargo, putting you and your customers in a tough spot.

If you transport goods by truck, ship, rail, or air, cargo insurance protects against freight loss or damage.

You want insurance that covers "all risk" and "total loss." If a tornado destroys a trailer of precision equipment, the right policy will reimburse the replacement cost of that freight.
