

WASTE & RECYCLING PRACTICE

Waste management and recycling are dynamic, risky industries that require a comprehensive approach to manage their unique liabilities. Drawing on over 40 years of combined specialty expertise, the Risk Strategies Waste & Recycling Practice partners with you to effectively manage your risk. We go beyond traditional methods to protect your assets, employees, and bottom line.

INDUSTRY INSIGHT

Your business operates in one of the most challenging and high-risk industries in the country. Whether you're managing recycling facilities, hazardous or non-hazardous waste hauling, or landfills, you face unique risks every day. That's why it's essential to have a tailored insurance program that addresses your specific needs and safeguards your company and employees.

We help secure coverage for a wide range of exposures including:

- Workers' compensation to protect your employees from higher-than-average risk exposure
- Automobile liability and physical damage to keep your fleet moving safely
- General liability and excess liability to shield your business from costly claims, including "nuclear verdicts" common in the industry
- Environmental and pollution liability to address the unique challenges of your operations
- Bonding, cyber liability, and executive risk, including directors & officers coverage, to protect your leadership and business continuity

SOLUTIONS & CAPABILITIES

Due to the increased exposure and liability facing waste and recycling companies, it can be difficult to secure adequate coverage. Our team understands the complexities of the market and uses our skills to mitigate your risk and our relationships to develop specialized insurance plans.

Our solutions and capabilities include:

- Safety training and resources tailored to your specific operational risk to improve safety practices and scores.
- Risk management, including loss control and robust claims advocacy, to help keep claim costs down.
- Customized insurance programs designed to provide the most cost-effective solutions.

WHY RISK STRATEGIES

In a complex industry with many exposures, you deserve a partner who understands your challenges and delivers specialized coverage tailored to your needs. We go beyond insurance to provide you with a comprehensive risk management plan that addresses every liability and protects your business from the unexpected.

With deep industry knowledge and a commitment to exceptional services, we're here to help you navigate the nuances of the waste and recycling market.
